Building the Team and Formulating the Investigative Topic(s)

Who will be (can be) your team members (and what is their competence)?

What is the topic to investigate?

How it is relevant in different contexts?

What will be the focus and our questions?

Budget and Application Process

Preparation of the budget based on the team competences and investigation focus (how you will spend money for defined purpose)

Formal requirements of Journalism Fund which are available online

Problems /Mistakes

You can expect problems related to the investigative focus which can alter your plans

It is good to have a system of internal deadlines and somebody to coordinate the team during the steps

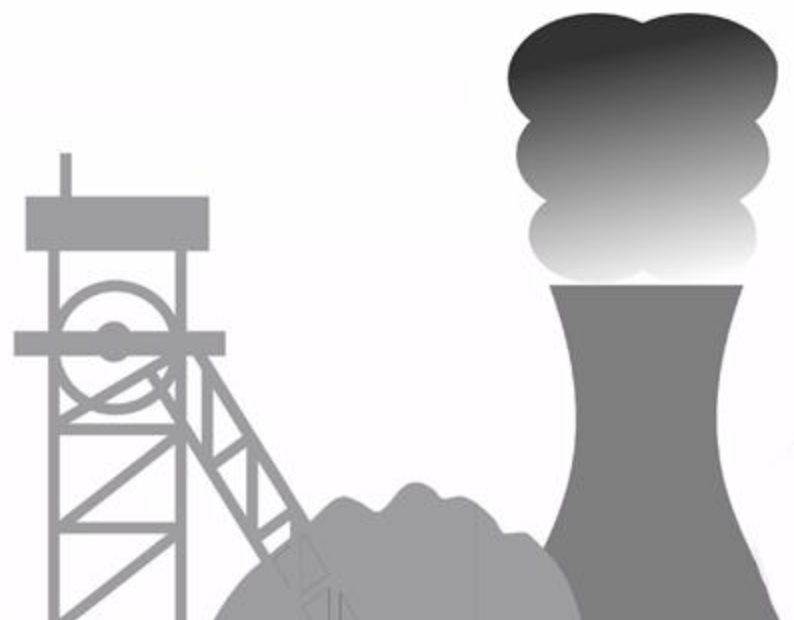

If you decide to offer multimedia content (as we did) you should have a producer or person responsible for recording and production (plan it since the beginning, it will make your work easier).
